

Necole Parker, ELOCEN Group, managed the 2008 Federal Environmental Symposium for the Federal Government on the campus of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) at the Natcher Conference Center

The level of effort that was provided was nothing less than professional. It takes a lot of time and concerted effort to provide efficient conference management services for a large group of people. I would most certainly recommend the ELOCEN Group again. They were efficient and reliable.

Their service to the Federal government was superior and appreciated.

*Michelle L. Coley
Business Specialist
Division of Environment Protection
National Institutes of Health*